September 15, 2007

MADISON, MS- BuyFromAChristian.com is excited to announce the release of a new internet shortcut to access the website. This new shortcut allows users to enter a shorter address in their web browser and still go to BuyFromAChristian.com!

The new shortcut address is iBFAC.com. This new address is intended to be simple and easy to remember. The address is a shortened version of "I BuyFromAChristian.com!"

Users will also note that the old "My BFAC" link on the homepage (for users who have signed up on the site and have logged into BuyFromAChristian.com) has been changed to reflect this new shortcut and now reads simply, "iBFAC."

The "iBFAC" link (the old "My BFAC" link) allows users to access their account information and to easily access and edit their product listings. Purchases on the website, along with other information, are easily accessed from this link as well.

So now, when accessing the BuyFromAChristian.com website, just remember, "I Buy From A Christian!" and our new internet shortcut, "iBFAC.com"
