April 15, 2008

Madison, MS: BuyFromAChristian.com is proud to offer a new and direct way to learn more about BuyFromAChristian.com through the new BuyFromAChristian Blog available at BuyFromAChristianBlog.com!

Using the power available through Blogger ®, BuyFromAChristian.com has created a new blog that will allow people to read about the company's newest offerings and the opportunity to leave feedback as well!

The new blog also allows BuyFromAChristian.com a way to show users all of our commercials, graphics, future plans, etc.

We will be creating a frequently asked questions section on the blog as well, that will allow BuyFromAChristian.com users the opportunity to find answers to their questions more easily and without having to call or email for help!

We have also started creating video tutorials that will be another way users can view step-by-step tutorials on how to navigate through some of our common features.

Overall, the blog's goal is simple: to allow BuyFromAChristian.com to DIRECTLY communicate with customers and visitors to the growing site.
